

SSI Affinity Groups

Software and Service Information for Affinity Groups

No part of this document may be reproduced or transmitted by Client for any purpose, other than for purposes of Client's internal use of the System and Services as authorized in a valid Order Form or Change Order. Capitalized terms used in this Software and Service Information document will have the meanings described herein, unless defined in the Terms of Service available online here. (<https://benevity.com/terms-of-service>).

The Software and Service Information may be updated by Licensor from time to time to account for improvements and updates related to the applicable product or Service and to comply with legal and regulatory requirements. Such updates will become effective immediately upon the Licensor's posting of such changes online, and the latest version posted online shall apply, provided however that in no event will the updates materially and negatively affect the functionality of the applicable product or Service without the Client's consent, unless required by applicable law or regulatory requirements.

If Benevity, Inc. ("Benevity") is NOT the Licensor under the Order Form or Change Order, then the following paragraph applies: The Licensor listed in the applicable Order Form, Change Order or Statement of Work represents that it is a direct or indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Benevity. Licensor shall ensure that Benevity and/or its Affiliate(s) provide the products and services set forth in this Software and Service Information document. For greater clarity, when this Software and Service Information document makes reference to rights, obligations, arrangements, acknowledgements and/or agreements between Benevity and Client, the intent is that contractual privity remains between Licensor and Client, and each of Licensor and Client may enforce the rights, obligations, arrangements, acknowledgements and/or agreements under this Software and Service Information document.

A. Overview

Benevity Affinity Groups. Client will have access to "Benevity Affinity Groups". The Benevity Affinity Groups solution is aimed at allowing employees to discover, join, create, manage and participate in employee-led groups. Employees with shared goals or experiences can organize, socialize, educate, innovate and drive change — all in one place. Client administrative users can track participation, report and drive insights with data. Benevity is not responsible for the content or information posted or shared through the Benevity Affinity Groups solution by Client, its employees or any other parties and Benevity is not liable for any rules or regulations set by Client 's administrative users regarding the usage of the Benevity Affinity Groups solution by its employees or any other parties. Benevity's standard End User Terms of Use will be agreed to by users of Benevity Affinity Groups prior to utilizing it. If any such user utilizes the Benevity Affinity Groups solution in violation of the End User Terms of Use (or in violation of the Agreement), Benevity may immediately suspend and/or terminate such user's access.

For clarity, the features and functionality to be provided by Benevity, as listed in this Software and Service Information document, include standard features and functionality generally offered by Benevity to Benevity's other Affinity Groups clients. The provision of any features or functionality that are not generally made available by Benevity to Benevity's other clients will be subject to additional agreement between the Parties.

B. Service & Maintenance

Please see our Service Level Agreement (https://benevity.com/service-level-addendum?hs_preview=XcEnIRwL-139741568415) which sets out information pertaining to our service and support offering.

Please refer to our Information Security Addendum (<https://benevity.com/information-security-addendum>) which sets out information pertaining to our technical and organisational measures.

Last updated December 2023